

About Us

We are a global leader in delivering Web-based human resources survey solutions.

We launch and manage complex global employee surveys for companies ranging from 1000 to 100,000+ participants. Our expertise and powerful survey system have made us unrivaled in deployment speed, capacity of survey administration and facilitation.

While our products are technology driven, our processes focus on human factors.

Since 1997, we have helped our clients gather meaningful information about their human resources using our IT-powered, real-time survey solutions. Our surveys provide freedom from deployment risk and ensure results that are relevant and action-oriented.

Our technology, research methods, and our position as an independent third party enable us to guarantee complete anonymity to all participants and the highest level of survey security.

We build collaborative solutions for our clients and involve their survey project team in every step of the process. Our team's knowledge, skill and dedication to quality are the primary reasons we not only meet, but exceed our clients' expectations.

We are proud to be a Canadian-based company with global capabilities, expertise, and experience.
